Committee Acts To Fill Vacancies At First Meeting

The San Mateo County Probation Committee had before it at its monthly meeting Tuesday the selection of a chairman to replace Joseph L. Hyman, who died last month, the seating of a new member to take Hyman's place, and the resignation of Judge Edward I. McAuliffe from the body.

Edward H. Cosgriff, Burlingame attorney, was unanimously elected to the chairmanship post.

McAuliffe, police judge and justice of the peace here, submitted his resignation Tuesday and it was accepted with reluctance by Juvenile Court Judge Aylett R. Cotton. Judge McAuliffe said several months ago that he planned to resign "when the proper time comes."

Judge McAuliffe found himself in the embarrassing position last Summer of casting the deciding ballot for the ouster of his friend, Francis J. Robinson from the post of probation officer, which he had held for 14 years. Judge McAuliffe declared at the time he never wanted to find himself in that position again. He was the acting chairman at last month's probation committee meeting.

Judge McAuliffe's term expires in January, 1947.

Judge Cotton, this morning appointed Lowry S. Howard, president for approximately 20 years of Menlo School and Junior College, to the committee post vacated by the death of Hyman. The term expires next Tuesday, but Cotton said he would reappoint Howard for a four-year term.

McAuliffe's resignation will make it necessary for Judge Cotton to make his third appointment to the probation committee in a month. J. Ed McClellan of San Mateo was seated as a new member at the last meeting of the group. He replaced Col. Charles N. Kirkbride, San Mateo attorney, who resigned primarily in protest to the ouster of Robinson.

Members of the committee at the start of this afternoon's meeting were McAuliffe, Cosgriff, McClellan, Henry C. Hall, Mrs. Flora Steele and Mrs. Theresa Altierl.

Among other matters to confront the committee today were further plans for the proposed new juvenile home, which is to be located on county-owned property adjacent to the County Relief Home west of Belmont.

P.A. Jr. College Plan Before Board

Whether a junior college will be established in Palo Alto may be known this weekend when the State Board of Education meeting in Sacramento considers a proposal submitted by Dr. John C. Almack, member of the Palo Alto Board of Education, that the high school facilities be used also for a junior college.

The Palo Alto Unified School District estimates $80,000 would be the initial expense to establish a junior college. If such an institution is approved, it would change the school terms from six years of grammar school, three years of junior high and three years of high school to six years of grammar school, four years of junior high and four years of high school and junior college.

The State Board will also consider an application for the establishment of a junior college in Vallejo. The Vallejo Unified City School District estimated that a minimum enrollment of 500 could be obtained at the outset and that buildings and equipment would cost $684,500.

'The Merry Widow' Begins S.F. Run

For more than a quarter of a century, people the world over have been either hearing or singing the magnificent musical score from "The Merrly Widow," and for more than a quarter of a century, "The "The Merry Widow," and for more "classic" operetta. As all the world knows, the score is by the great operetta master, Franz Lehar. It was first presented in the traditional pre-war capital, Vienna. It took all of Europe by storm, and an equally enthusiastic reception greeted it in this country, a reception which has never been slackened in its fervor.

Topping the Lehar score, is the famous "Merry Widow Waltz," which along with Johann Strauss' "Blue Danube," is properly acclaimed as the most popular waltz in the world. Another famous beautiful and renown number is the soprano solo, "Vilia." By way of contrast, we find the lilting and slightly naughty song which Prince Danilo, the gay rake of a hero, sings, "Maxim's." And then there is the rousing but light male chorus, "Girls, Girls, Girls." Probably more pieces of sheet music and more recordings have been sold for "The Merry Widow" music than for music from any other operetta.

The amusing and familiar story concerns the Prince whose country is on the verge of bankruptcy, and who is ordered by his government to go to Paris to make love to and to marry a wealthy widow. He dispises his assignment, but what he doesn't know is that she is young and beautiful. This makes his task much lighter, and the play rolls along through the usual—and some unusual—complications, to its very happy and gay ending.

Nancy Kenyon sings the title role of "The Merry Widow"; Dan De Paolo sings the role of Prince Danilo; Marion Bradley will be heard as Natasha; and Toby Durst as Raymond; with a company of 60 and an orchestra of 30 under the direction of Robert Zellar.

The engagement is at the Geary two weeks only, Jan. 14 to 27; with a bargain matinee Wednesday, Jan. 17; Saturday matinees and a Sunday matinee Jan. 21.

Red Cross Quota Set at $47,000

Dr. James W. Thornton, chairman of the Redwood City Red Cross Chapter, today announced that the 1945 War Fund quota has been set at $47,000. Of this amount $27,000, plus $6000 carried over from 1944, will be used for chapter requirements, and $20,000 will go to the national organization.

Dr. Thornton announced the quota figures at a meeting of the chapter executive board this morning. The campaign will be conducted between Mar. 1 and 31, and an effort will be made to conclude it by Mar. 15, he said.

The board appointed Mrs. James H. Bullard as visiting nursing service representative, to succeed Mrs. L. P. Tompkins, resigned.

R. C. Police Jail Man Sought in Berkeley

Wanted by Berkeley police on charges of stealing a car, Donald E. Greer, 18, of 826 Haven St., walked into the Redwood City police station Tuesday and gave himself up, police reported today. Attached to the Berkeley warrant was a notice of bail set at $4000.

Green was turned over to Berkeley police this morning, police said.

New Shopping Center To Be Built Here

A. N. Paterson, Redwood City real estate broker, today announced consummation of a transaction which assures erection of a new $150,000 shopping center at El Camino Real and Brewster Ave.

Three other Redwood City business men have joined with Paterson in a project which calls for erection of a large food market and a number of smaller shops as soon as priorities can be obtained. Others in the project are Sam Bright, and Otto Broberg, who operate a cleaning business, and Richard Meyer, of Mission Carpet House.

The El Camino corner, long vacant, adjoins the Greyhound depot. The property has a frontage of 253 feet on El Camino Real and 130 feet on Brewster. Paterson said he purchased the property from Sam Hamburger, San Francisco investor, at a cost of $50,000. He resold all of the property but a strip of the highway frontage to the new combine for $40,000. The shopping center property has a frontage of 175 feet on El Camino Real and 130 feet on Breewster.

The food market, to be operated by an independent merchant, will occupy 90 feet of the highway frontage and will extend the full depth of the property, Paterson announced.

Housing Shortage Relief Seen Here

Possible solution to the critical housing shortage in San Mateo County was foreseen today with an announcement today by the War Housing Administration that 2400 dwelling units in San Francisco-San Mateo Counties areas will be constructed immediately.

The housing agency said unofficially that, while no specific allotment was made between San Mateo and San Francisco Counties, the number probably would be split equally, depending on the number of applications and the suitability of sites.

All building will be done by private contractors who may apply to Preston L. Wright, regional director of the WHA with headquarters in San Francisco. FHA funds will be available for the building which may be either in multiple or individual units. Restrictions are that two-thirds of the new dwellings must be placed on the rental market. One-third may be sold.

A total of 3000 dwelling units will be constructed in the Bay Area. Of this number 500 were allotted to Alameda County

Taxpayers Get Warning About Filing

Early filing of income tax returns on the employer's withholding receipt, the Form W-2 revised, indicate that taxpayers have not followed the instructions listed on the form, Collector of Internal Revenue Harold A. Berliner said today in San Francisco.

Approximately 50 per cent of the income tax returns filed on Form W-2, in 1945, will have to be returned to the taxpayers for additional information Berliner said.

It was pointed out that unless the taxpayer supplies all the information that is required on Form W-2, it may cause his tax liability to be greater than it actually should be, or it will have to be returned to him for additional information.

Among the most prevalent mistakes discovered in the early filing of Form W-2, as an income tax return are:

(1) Failure of the taxpayer to sign the return.

(2) Failure to list his wife and the name of dependents. (Failure to take proper credit for dependents results in the Internal Revenue computing the tax on a single basis, which greatly increases the actual tax liability.)

(3) Failure to report both husband and wife's salary on the husband's return.

Berliner urged all persons who use Form W-2 revised as an income tax return, to carefully read the instructions printed on the form, and the printed pamphlet accompanying the withholding receipt, before sending it to the internal revenue as an income tax return.

Probation Head Seeks Split In Adult, Juvenile Offices

E. H. Cosgriff, Burlingame attorney newly elected to the chairmanship of the San Mateo County Probation Committee, today advocated separation of the adult and juvenile probation offices.

While one man now handles both adult and juvenile probation matters, they are two separate functions and the duties should be performed by different persons, Cosgriff pointed out.

"These are absolutely two different jobs," said the committee chairman, who was elected to his post at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. "They should be separated, particularly if the juvenile home is moved to a site near the relief home."

Cosgriff predicted that the separation of the two jobs would be considered by the committee at an early meeting.

Meanwhile Francis Murphy, San Mateo police judge, appeared before the committee yesterday to urge additional deputy probation officers to handle the juvenile problem.

The judge reported that in San Mateo he is operating a probation system with good success, but there is need to have enough people in the probation department to make a regular check on all cases, particularly where the terms of probation may be violated.

The department now has one chief probation officer and three deputies. The committee took no immediate action on Judge Murphy's request, but Cosgriff said some action will be taken in the near future.

"The case load is increasing from all sources," he pointed out. "We are working more closely with the schools than ever before. There are more referrals from schools, homes and police departments. We will survey the needs and then try to find out where the money is coming from for more deputies."

The committee will schedule a conference with Dr. C. C. Gans and Adrian Ward of the Department of Health and Welfare to complete preliminary plans for the proposed new juvenile home. The conference will be held in a day or two, Cosgriff said.

Preliminary plans for a Spanish-type structure under discussion have been completed by the county board of architects.

No appointment was made to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge E. I. McAuliffe.

Prominently mentioned was the name of Mrs. L. B. Lundborg, Atherton, wife of the manager of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

County Receives Road Allotment

Allotment of nearly $2,000,000,000 in postwar road construction and improvement projects in San Mateo County was announced today by the State Dept. of Public Works.

In reporting the sums which have been granted counties throughout California, the department listed $1,925,000 for San Mateo County. A total of $7,279,413 for the entire state was alloted.

Other counties in this area and their grants include: San Francisco, $4,705,000; Monterey, $1,323,800; Santa Cruz, $1,322,350.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

Mayor Lapham may be a shrewd business executive, and he may even be a good chief executive of the city and county of San Francisco, although we have never held with the theory that because a man is successful in business that he thereby qualifies per se for the rugged and highly specialized game of politics. In any case we are convinced hizzoner went off the deep end when he proposed a tax levy on commuters.

ROGER LAPHAM
. . . on the Spot

America's first war was fought over that same principle—taxation without representation. Remember the Boston Tea Party, and the Revolutionary War? And where does the mayor get the idea that commuters do not contribute or "pay their way" toward the support of San Francisco and her institutions. He mentions the added burden on the city's transportation system. Commuters pay the same fare as local residents. And if the fare is raised, as proposed, they will pay that too.

Commuters pay no taxes in San Francisco? Ridiculous. Every time a commuter spends a dollar in San Francisco he helps to pay for the city's upkeep. Let's assume for a minute that San Francisco had to live on the dollar volume turned over from the pockets of San Francisco residents only. What would be the gross take of the big stores and all other businesses if the commuter dollars were eliminated? Out of this volume of business taxes are paid. Eliminate the transbay and Peninsula support of San Francisco and the city would be bankrupt in no time.

However, commuters should learn a lesson from the mayor's suggestion. It is not the first time a tax on commuters has been proposed. One of these days they may try to put it over. Thus it behooves commuters to organize themselves and be ready for this unfair assault. We have urged repeatedly the organization of commuters on a Peninsula-wide basis. They should also be organized in the transbay area. In organization there is strength, and if such an unfair tax were levied a strong organization could boycott it out of existence.

They proposed such a tax in New York, but the commuters were too well organized and knocked it into a cocked hat. They do have some sort of "occupational tax" on commuters in Philadelphia, but that is only because the Philly commuters failed to organize and oppose it. We doubt the constitutionality of such a levy, but even if legal it is still unfair and the only way to beat it is through an organized boycott of the city which attempts it.

Lou Winkenwerder phoned us that Al Armitage, club treasurer is back in town . . . Chester Armstrong is home from the hospital, but must take it easy for several weeks . . . It was good to see "Eedie" Curran, Bill's wife, up and walking around her place yesterday giving instructions to the gardener . . . Don't forget Thursday night, mates. It's the first dinner meeting of the New Year, Women's Club as usual, and the house committee has a fine program lined up.

The story we promised to tell you several weeks ago concerns our County Comptroller Tom Kane, who despite the fact he handles millions of dollars was unable to get his own $5 check cashed in the local S.P. depot. About mid-December last, Tom had some business in the city, but at the depot discovered he was short of cash. So he ordered a roundtrip ticket and wrote a $5 check. The ticket seller refused his check, saying the auditors were there and they weren't allowed to take personal checks. "Let me see an auditor," Tom demanded indignantly. An auditor obliged and Tom told him who he was. The auditor replied "We don't care who you are, you can't cash that check here." Tom, being Swedish, became angry and told the auditor off. Then he turned to Bill Curran who had just come in, told Bill the story, and asked him to cash his $5 check. Bill didn't have $5, so Tom kept asking people until he found someone who trusted him enough to take his check. Curran, however, got so excited over the deal, he walked out, climbed on the train and left $12,000 worth of Carlisle's orders on the depot ticket counter. Bill later retrieved the orders, but it's doubtful if Kane will ever retrieve his hurt feelings.

SOON'S I FINISH THIS JOB, I'M GOING DOWN RIVER TO NEW YORK CITY.
LUCKY YOU, ELISHA!
ON THE BOAT THE CLANKING OF CHAINS KEPT OTIS FROM ENJOYING HIS TRIP.
IN HEAVEN'S NAME, WHAT'S THAT HORRIBLE NOISE?
IT'S JUST THE STEERING CHAIN. CAN'T BE HELPED!
BUT OTIS INVENTED A SILENT STEAM STEERING GEAR. ONE DAY HE HAPPENED TO PASS AS A LOADED HOIST FELL.
WATCH OUT BELOW!
THAT'S DANGEROUS! OUGHT TO BE A WAY TO CHECK THE FALL!
NOT LONG AFTERWARDS, A HOIST HAD TO BE PUT IN WHERE HE WAS FACTORY SUPERINTENDENT.
WHEN ARE WE GOING TO GET THAT HOIST, MR. OTIS?
NOT TILL I'VE INVENTED SOMETHING TO STOP HER IF THE ROPE BREAKS!
AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE EXPOSITION IN 1853, OTIS DEMONSTRATED HIS SAFETY DEVICE HIMSELF.
ALL SET! GO AHEAD AND CUT THE ROPE!
HE'LL BE KILLED! I CAN'T WATCH!
THE HOIST BEGAN TO PLUNGE, THEN CAME TO A STOP PART-WAY DOWN.
ALL SAFE, GENTLEMEN!
BRAVO! REMARKABLE!
OTIS' INVENTION MADE ELEVATORS SAFE FOR PASSENGERS AND PAVED THE WAY FOR SKYSCRAPERS.
ARE YOU SURE THIS IS SAFE?
YES, MA'AM. IT'S ONE OF MR. OTIS' ELEVATORS.
TODAY MORE PEOPLE RIDE ELEVATORS THAN ALL OTHER PUBLIC CONVEYANCES PUT TOGETHER, AND RELY ON THE NAME OTIS FOR COMFORT AND SAFETY.

Col. Edmonds Takes Over As Member

Fred E. Beer of San Mateo Monday was re-elected for his third term as chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors at a special reorganization meeting, and Lt. Col. Henry W. Edmonds of Redwood City was seated as supervisor, replacing John W. Poole, also of Redwood City, who retired voluntarily after serving 18 years on the board.

Beer's re-election was unanimous by members present. Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey of South San Francisco was mysteriously missing from the meeting.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch of Half Moon Bay, who stated that he thought Beer had done a good job as chairman and that he has more time than any other member of the board to carry out the duties of the position, nominated Beer for re-election. First act of Supervisor Edmonds after being seated was to second the nomination. Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame moved that the nominations be closed.

No reason was given for the absence of Supervisor Hickey. It had been speculated before today's meeting that Supervisor McDonald might nominate Edmonds for the chairmanship and that Hickey probably would second the nomination.

"I feel highly flattered to be re-elected," Beer said, declaring that if the board sees fit it "has the right to change horses in the middle of the stream."

Beer has served two two-year terms as chairman.

Glowing tributes were paid to Poole and congratulations extended to Edmonds by members of the board, press and county officials.

Chairman Beer said that during the 10 years he has served on the board with Poole that he had learned to have a high regard for his integrity.

Poole expressed his appreciation to the public for its support and to the board for its co-operation. He said he would be able to devote more time to himself and his wife since he is not "tied down" with the duties of supervisor. Poole, who for many years was engaged in the transfer business now operated by his son, John H. Poole, is employed at the Port of Redwood.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan was instructed to investigate to determine if reappointments are necessary for fire warden, agricultural commissioner, sealer of weights and measures and librarian. He is to report his findings at next Tuesday's meeting of the board.

The Burlingame Advance was named official county newspaper for 1945.

A petition by Matalan Post 2068, Veterans of Foreign Wars, San Mateo, that the supervisors appoint a fulltime county veterans' service officer, effective July 1, was held up for further consideration by the board. Chairman Beer pointed out that the Red Cross is now serving in an advisory capacity to returning veterans.

Action on the hog situation in the Colma region, called to their attention by the South San Francisco City Council, was deferred until Supervisor Hickey, who represents that district, is present. Beer asked that the board in the meantime familiarize itself with the problem.

Asks Action In Ambulance Service Here

Dormant of official action for five months, the fire to remedy the lack of adequate ambulance service in San Mateo County was rekindled Tuesday by County Executive Frederick Peterson, who told the board of supervisors that, because of rapidly increasing population, it is imperative that immediate action on the problem be taken.

Peterson pointed out that on Aug. 11, 1944, he sent the supervisors a citizens' committee recommendation that a 24-hour county owned, county operated ambulance service be established.

"I feel sufficient time has elapsed to allow your decision in the matter and that your early legislative action is imperative," Peterson said. "The present and rapidly increasing population of San Mateo County should have a 24-hour ambulance and emergency hospital service without further delay."

Peterson said his declaration today was prompted by numerous letters relative to the lack of adequate ambulance service in the county.

The board of supervisors, acting on the recommendation last August, named itself to a committee to study the matter and asked the Civil Service Commission to investigate classification and rates of pay for ambulance drivers. The Civil Service Commission has completed its investigation, but has received no request from the supervisors to make a report on its findings, the commission office reported.

Peterson and the citizens' committee had recommended that the county have two ambulances stationed at Community Hospital, to be fully manned for 24-hour service, with each ambulance equipped with a two-way radio transmitter, and that an additional telephone operator be available at the hospital switchboard.

Dr. E. I. Bartlett, one of the owners of South San Francisco Hospital, last month demanded that the county provide some type of public ambulance service in the northern part of the county. County Health Director Charles C. Gans estimated that it would cost approximately $19,000 for the first year to maintain a 24-hour public ambulance service in the northern part of the county.

Planning Group—Sans Witte—Discusses Rezoning Plans

Redwood City's Planning Commissioners met Tuesday without Chmn. Henry Witte, real estate man and insurance broker, whose resignation from the commission is currently pending action by the Redwood City Council. Rezoning topped the discussion.

Witte, who submitted his resignation from the commission of which he has been chairman the past 18 years to the council on Jan. 3, did not attend Tuesday's meeting although he is still officially head of the commission.

No comments, other than the need to elect a temporary chairman to preside during Witte's absence, were made by the commissioners although his letter of resignation as an "attack" and "painful surprise."

Witte had been asked to give up his position as chairman of the commission or city insurance broker after the council supported a ruling by City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy in which it was held the concurrent holding of positions of planning commissioner and city insurance broker was in violation of the city charter.

A. H. Morgan Jr. was elected temporary chairman of the commission which heard protests regarding the proposed rezoning of the Tyson property at Acacia Ln. and Heller St.

The requested rezoning to permit light industry was carried on the agenda for further consideration.

Commissioners also received an application for rezoning of Block 54, bordered by the railroad tracks, Chestnut and Shasta Sts., and El Camino Real from the Redwood Planing Mill which proposes future erection of a mill on the site.

Beer Wins Appointment To Bay Area Council

Fred E. Beer, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, has been appointed to an executive committee of 18 Bay Area civic leaders who will draft a new program of unified action on economic problems confronting the region. Frank N. Belgrano Jr. of Oakland, who named the committeemen, placed Atty. Francis V. Keesling of San Francisco at the head of the Bay Region Council.

The committee will meet within the next 10 days to prepare a program for submission to the Bay Region Council as a whole.

Navy Needs Fats

Our navy, the world's greatest sea power, uses thousands of items that employ fats and oils in their making. From paint and soap to high explosives and medicines, fats and oils are vitally needed ingredients in sea-going equipment and "naval stores." Save every drop of used cooking fat. Turn it over to the meat dealer for cash and extra ration points.

Jail Tanforan Sailor On Mischief Charge

Placing refuse cans, bicycle racks and traffic signs in the streets may be fun but it is termed malicious mischief as far as the law is concerned. A sailor, John Shelton, 20, stationed at Tanforan, was busily occupied in moving these objects into the street in Redwood City Tuesday and today he is nursing a hangover in the county jail, police said.

Police report that Shelton was be turned over to naval authorities Wednesday.

What to do about beans, macaroni, rice, etc.

Versatile—is the word for these foods—because they can be made the basis for a large variety of low cost main dishes. To make real meals from them—just look at these ideas:

Try serving steamed or boiled rice, spaghetti or noodles in place of potatoes.

Serve macaroni or spaghetti topped with homemade or canned chili for a hearty economy dish.

Make a rice custard from left-over rice—or add it to ground meat dishes, griddle cakes or muffins.

LOAF

4 cups cooked spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or rice	⅛ tsp. paprika
2 tbsps. shortening	1 cup grated American cheese
3 tbsps. flour	3 tbsps. finely chopped pimiento
1½ cups milk	¾ cup finely chopped green pepper
1 tsp. salt	3 eggs
⅛ tsp. pepper

Make white sauce: melt shortening, blend in flour, add milk gradually and cook until thick, about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add seasonings, cheese, pimiento and green pepper; cook 5 minutes; add spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or rice. Add well beaten eggs and pour into well-greased loaf pan or ring mold. Bake in pan of hot water in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes or until set; unmold. Serves 6.

BEAN CHILI

3 medium-size onions	1 tbsp. salt
1 bud garlic	3 cups cooked tomatoes
1½ lbs. ground beef	3 cups water
3 tbsps. oil or shortening	2 cups dried pink beans
2 to 3 tbsps. chili powder
3 bay leaves

a. Chop onions and garlic. Saute slowly with meat in hot oil or shortening in large heavy frying pan until meat separates, stirring constantly.

b. Add seasonings, tomatoes strained through sieve, and water. Cook slowly 2 hours, stirring occasionally.

c. Pick over and wash beans. Cook slowly in covered 3 to 4 qt. kettle with water to cover until tender, 2 to 3 hours. Add more water as needed to keep beans covered with liquid.

d. Add meat mixture to beans; let stand several hours or overnight. Heat when ready to serve. Serves 8 to 10 generously.

(Note: If beef is not available, other ground meats such as lamb, pork, liver, heart, or combination of these may be used.)

FIRST IN FARM ELECTRIFICATION

There is a final FIRST for California Agricultute that this company mentions with pardonable pride. It is that California farmers lead those of all other states in the use of electric horsepower. And in the 46 counties into which P. G. and E. lines extend 95.9 per cent of all farms within one quarter mile of a distribution line use electricity for lighting, pumping and other farm labor saving devices.

Availability of electric horsepower to make up for the lack of manpower has meant much to California farmers during these war years.
